Headteacher's Notes

Dear parents/carers,

First of all, thank you to those that attended and/or donated money towards our MacMillan Coffee Morning. A special thank you must also go to the PTFA and the parent helpers for organising the event and giving up their time. There were lots of delicious cakes on offer and I was glad to buy myself a 'unicorn cake' before they ran out. We have another cake sale at the end of the day so we will let you know how much we have raised next week.

Our Year 3 and Year 5 classes visited Tatton Park on Wednesday to learn about Stone Age (Year 3) and Anglo-Saxon/Viking (Year 5) life. The two classes split off to enjoy their separate workshops and Mr Taylor, I hope he doesn't mind me saying, said it was one of the best school trips he had been to. Pictures of the trip will be on our Facebook page very soon.

Today saw our second celebration assembly of the year and I must say a huge thank you for positive feedback on our new format. It has been an absolute pleasure to welcome in parents, carers and wider family members to join us in rewarding and celebrating our award winners. Please note that, because we now split our Friday assemblies, it will be a mixture of myself, our Deputy Headteacher, Mrs Kilshaw, or our Assistant Headteacher, Miss Middlehurst, who lead the celebrations. We look forward to seeing more of you as the weeks go on.

Next week sees our first 'Parents to School Week' of the year. We recently shared the timetable for the week but, if you need a copy, please see the office for a reminder. I hope you can make it. We will also be sending out our main school development plan priorities on Monday so please keep your eye out for that.

Have a great weekend,

Mr Spruce
